SALMON MUST BE PROTECTED

HEARING ON CLOSING OF WOOD
RIVER ENTIRELY AND NUSHAGAK
FOR TRAPS SET FOR DEC. 16th.
AT WASHINGTON D. C.

Secretary Rosenberg, of the Fishermen's Union returned on last night's train. Mr. Rosenberg had been visiting Governor Chamberlain, and other state officials relative to the initiative measure to close fishing on the upper Columbia. While in Portland he interviewed a number of leading business men, who pledged their support to the measure proposed. An Astorian reporter interviewed Mr. Rosenberg, immediately after his arrival, and in answer to a question as to the results of his trip, he made the following statement:

"We told the Governor that in view of the fact that the Legislature had failed to pass measures restricting fishing in the narrows of the upper Columbia, where now the fishwheels almost absolutely prevent salmon from reaching our hatcheries, it had been decided, after consulting many of the leading citizens of the state to bring this matter to the direct vote of the people under the initiative law. The Governor was told that we will incorporate the 'Columbia River Salmon Protective Association,' with headquarters at Portland. Mr. Orton of the Multnomah Printing Company, of Portland, Or., has agreed to accept the office of president. Judge McBride and leading men of affairs in Portland, Astoria and from up-state and down-state districts have been secured to act on the board of directors. The Astoria Savings Bank will be the treasurer of the association, incorporated under the fraternal society law.

"The Governor answered that as he was but one member of the board of fish commissioners, he did not feel justified to give an opinion at the present time. 'I might, however, do so later on,' he added.

"Secretary of State Benson was interviewed as to the methods of distributing and filing initiative petitions and gave valuable advice.

"Attorney-General Crawford was likewise asked to give his opinion on some of the disputed points of the initiative law and readily promised to comply with the request.

"The names of the complete board of directors will be shortly published."

Secretary Rosenberg received today a telegram from Secretary of Commerce and Labor Oscar Strauss, informing him that the request of the United Fishermen for a hearing to entirely close the Wood River to fishing and the Nushagak River, Bristol Bay, Bering Sea, to trap fishing, has been set for December 16th to take place at Washington, D. C.

"This," Rosenberg said, "again proves that the organized fishermen are fully determined to save our fisheries against the short-sighted greed of some men who monopolizing favorable locations through such monopoly are enabled to kill off our salmon supply.

"Three years ago President Roosevelt, informed of the steady decline of our Alaska salmon through over-fishing, especially in the narrow parts of the rivers, sent on the U. S. steamer Albatross a commission to Alaska, headed by such men as President David Starr Jordan of the Stanford University, Professor E. V. Silliman of the Bureau of Fisheries and other fishery experts.

"After spending nearly an entire summer in this investigation, the commission strongly reported in favor of closing Wood River to fishing, also reported against traps in Nushagak. Bills covering the main features of this report were introduced in Congress, but strangled by the interests owning traps in Wood and Nushagak rivers. However, a bill was passed giving the Secretary of Commerce and Labor authority to close or limit fishing in Alaskan streams.

"The several failures in the Nushagak, especially the dismal failure of fishing there this year called for some action, reports showing that the spawning grounds were almost without spawn.

"As under the law mentioned, the Secretary of Commerce and Labor had to give 30 days' notice of a hearing to all interested parties, and as also a decision rendered could not take effect in the same calendar year, the United Fishermen sent telegrams from San Francisco, Astoria and Seattle, requesting Secretary Strauss to set the hearing about the middle of December, so that if favorable decision was reached, the remedy would take effect in 1908.

"All of the companies interested in these fisheries, and the fisheries employ several millions of capital and about 2000 workmen, gave us permission to use their names as supporting the request for this hearing. The only exceptions were the Alaska Packers' Association and the Portland Packers' Association (Warren).

"Strong briefs in support of such closing of the Wood and Nushagak rivers have been given to me by many of the companies interested and there will be presented by Secretary L. N. Hylen of the Alaska Fishermen's Union and myself at the hearing at Washington."

LAWYERS WRANGLING.

Defense Makes Many Objections in the Walsh Case and Trial is Delayed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Constant wrangling between the attorneys in the Walsh case caused for most part by the numerous objections, by defense, to testimony of F. W. McLean, former cashier of the Chicago National Bank, delayed progress today. McLean took the stand to identify memorandums which he asserted he made out and signed under various names, later discounting these instruments on orders from Walsh. So vigorous however were the objections of defense to this line of testimony that the cashier had not finished his story when adjournment until Monday took place.

JAS. PHILLIPS DEAD.

Died Suddenly in Portland Yesterday and Foul Play is Suspected.

PORTLAND, Nov. 22.—James H. Phillips, formerly captain of police of Astoria, who conducted the resort known as the Paris House until it was closed by the police several months ago, was found dead in his bed at 11 o'clock this morning. It is learned that Dr. Cordier had been treating Phillips for some time past for heart trouble, which, however, was not believed to be serious. The manner of his death was created the ground for suspicion that death may have been due to a drug, and the coroner will have the stomach given a chemical analysis.

ADVERTISING PAYS.

Work in That Line Done by the Chamber of Commerce Noticed.

That the work in the advertising line done by the Chamber of Commerce is being noticed, is shown by the comment on a leading Massachusetts paper via the Springfield Republican. In its financial column of November 11 it has this to say:

"The Chamber of Commerce of Astoria, Ore., is using the classified advertising columns of the leading papers in the eastern states, Canada and Europe to make known the attractive fields for workingmen, tourists and investors in the region surrounding the mouth of the Columbia River. It is stated that experiments in this direction on a small scale have been so productive of results that the Chamber is now engaged in an extensive campaign of world-wide extent on the same lines. The Massachusetts papers that are in the list used by the Astoria Chamber of Commerce are the Republican and the Boston Herald."

Manager Whyte has written to the renowned editor, saying:

"Your remarks are quite justified, as, according to our belief, while God could have made a prettier place than Astoria, he did not, as the little book of photo-engravings sent under separate cover, will partially illustrate. And Horace Greeley expressed our sentiments concerning the young man and the west."

Sailors of the Navy Will Give Ball Before Leaving on Cruise.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Arrangements are being made for a farewell ball, to be given by the sailors of all the ships now in the New York Navy Yard that are to make the trip to the Pacific. The ball will be held at Coney Island on November 29. There are five battleships in the yard, two more are expected and there are several smaller ships. As many men as can be spared will be permitted to attend the ball. Rear Admiral Evans and his staff officers of the various vessels at the yard will be invited.

This practically will be the last chance enlisted men will have to enjoy themselves before they leave the yard, and it is proposed to make the occasion memorable.

Shattuck Copper Mine in Arizona Burning—Damage is Already $50,000.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 22.—The origin of smoke and gas issuing from mines of the Calumet and Arizona and Copper Queen holdings in Bisbee, Arizona, has been discovered. Flames have burst from the mouth of the main shaft of the Shattuck Arizona Mine. The damage has already reached $50,000 and the fire has not been checked.

All the openings of the shafts have been bulkheaded and desperate efforts are being made to control the blaze. The flow of gas and smoke makes it practically impossible to do anything to help put out the fires.

STRIKE FOR CASH.

Pay Car Leaves Checks Payable in Clearing House Certificate.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Reno, Nevada, says: Train service on the Southern Pacific east of here and all work in the shops was suspended yesterday as a result of the payment of the employees of the company in checks. The pay car left checks as usual, but when the men presented them at the banks payment was refused because the checks were indorsed on the face "payable in funds current at the San Francisco Clearing House." Firemen and engineers left their trains and refused to turn a wheel until cash was forthcoming. East-bound trains were tied up, except mail trains. A compromise was finally arranged by which the men will receive 10 per cent of their pay in cash. It is thought they will return to work today.

HOP GROWERS ACTIVE.

Movement to Form Association for Consolidation of Pacific Coast Growers.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22.—There is a decided activity among the hop growers in this vicinity along a new line. A meeting was held here today at which initial steps were taken looking to the formation of what is forecasted as a powerful organization to take in the whole Pacific Coast hop business at least as far as growers are concerned. Much secrecy is maintained as to what is to be done but it is known the prime interest is to consolidate hop growing interests in an organization for mutual protection. It is denied that anything looking to the control of prices to restrict competition or trade is in view. Another meeting will be held Tuesday when the whole subject will be threshed out.
